

POLISHED PORCELAIN OPTICAL HAZING

Optical Hazing is a smoky effect visible on the surface of the tile when a direct light source reflects across it as a particular angle. It has no effect on the technical performance of the tile, and is not a defect; it's a characteristic arising from the mineral content and the manufacturing process. As such customers should be advised that polished porcelain tiles are not mirrors and optical hazing is an inherent feature in polished porcelain tiles and that the light source may change the appearance.